Indigenous Peoples Employee Resource Group

The Canada Life Indigenous Peoples Employee Resource Group promotes equality through education on Indigenous histories, cultures and values. Continuous learning contributes to active reconciliation, fostering stronger relationships and cultivating an inclusive culture, removing barriers for progress.

“Canada Life offers a broad horizon of possibilities. My favorite part of my work here is participating in our DEI employee resources groups, enabling me to be a social justice activist and having a real impact on the experience of my BIPOC colleagues and the culture overall. I have assisted in bringing in famous Indigenous speakers, authors, filmmakers to speak to our employees; and have been in consultation to build a smudge room in our Winnipeg office. We are encouraged to bring our authentic selves to the conversation and our perspectives are valued and considered. Your contributions are recognized and encouraged.”
